

Shift Truck Schedules From Peak Hours

Defense Rally

Thursday Night

Two of the large transportation companies have started rescheduling their trucks so that their heavy vehicles on Mt. Diablo Boulevard will pass Orinda Crossroads before the peak morning hours and before the peak evening period.

This information was given to Zach Montgomery by Paul W. James, assistant manager of the San Francisco office of the Truck Owners Association of California.

Montgomery, in reporting his talk with James, said that the state highway and county roads will be discussed at the next meeting of the Orinda Association's Civic Affairs Committee March 19 at 7:45. He said he had invited James to the session at Orinda Grammar School.

IN A PHONE conversation with Montgomery Tuesday regarding efforts of the Orinda Association to have heavy trucks scheduled away from peak hours on the highway, James stated that efforts are being made in this direction.

Montgomery said James told him that M. E. Snyder, vice-president of the Seaboard Transportation Company, had ordered all his equipment to be dispatched a half-hour earlier in the morning, so that wherever possible the trucks would be through the Crossroads area by 7 a.m. In addition, Snyder gave instruction that trucks leaving Oakland in the late afternoon go through Orinda before 5 if possible. Montgomery was informed that so far as feasible Seaboard's trucks would be routed via Dublin.

JAMES ALSO told Montgomery that J. A. Nevis, owner of the J. A. Nevis Transportation Company, Pittsburg, has issued the same general instructions regarding his trucks.

Officials of the trucking association recently promised the Diablo Highway Improvement Federation that they would make such efforts.

AT THE MARCH 19 meeting a report will be made of last Monday night's special road meeting of the Civic Affairs Committee. This meeting dealt with the problem of county roads.

One of the details stressed was the need for county widening of two turns on El Toyonal, so that that area can obtain school bus service again. This point was brought up by the Orinda Highlands Association.

Planned county improvements for Moraga Highway and the need for repairing of Glorietta Boulevard were also discussed.

Questions about civilian defense organization and procedure will receive definite answers at a community meeting next Thursday night at Orinda Grammar School auditorium, President Kirk Miles of the Orinda Association stated today.

The meeting, to start at 8 p.m., is being sponsored by the Orinda Association. Purpose of the gathering is to inform the public on disaster relief steps and to stimulate interest in civil defense activities.

Scheduled to speak on the overall civilian defense setup for Orinda is George Burton, director of the Contra Costa County Civil Defense and Disaster Relief Council. Also invited to address the gathering are District Warden C. R. Henry and Assistant District Warden Clifford H. Roper, rear admiral, retired.

Two motion pictures, "Pattern for Survival" and "You Can Beat the A-Bomb," will be shown.

ZONE WARDENS E. F. Hockenbeamer and Marvin Bonds will speak briefly on the sector warden organization for Orinda. Hockenbeamer is zone warden for the area north of Mt. Diablo Boulevard, while Bonds is zone warden for the area south of it.

Miles will act as chairman of the meeting.

Sector wardens and their assistants were sworn in Wednesday night at the Orinda School. Burton, Henry and Roper were present, as were Bonds and Hockenbeamer.

Bonds this week praised the "excellent cooperation from everybody in the community." Many people, he pointed out, had become active in other civil defense activities before the warden organization was begun, and so were unable to sign up as wardens.

DESPITE THIS, all 15 Orinda sector wardens had been selected this week, and every sector except one also had an assistant warden.

Assistant zone wardens are: North zone, Homer G. Keesling, 384 Camino Sobrante; south zone, William L. Thurlow, 15 Southwood Drive. (Hockenbeamer's address is 33 Dias Dorados Road; Bonds' is 11 Oakwood Road.)

The seven sectors of the south zone, it was announced by Bonds, are now named as follows:

- 1.—Warden, B. E. Monroe, 12 Southwood Court; assistant, E. J. Fowler, Jr., 11 Southwood Court.
- 2.—Warden — Jack Rechtiene, 44 Barbara Road; assistant, Fred Brown, 58 Camino Encinas.
- 3.—Warden, Anthony Cianciarulo, 41 Estates Drive; assistant, Arthur Bowman, 62 Orchard Road.
- 4.—Warden, Allen Ayres, 302 Overhill Road; assistant, Thomas Reese, 289 Glorietta Boulevard.
- 5.—Warden, W. R. Arends, 2 Valley View Drive.
- 6.—Warden, Joseph Creighton, 36 Moraga Via; assistant, Hamilton R. Stevenson, 71 Irvine Drive.
- 7.—Warden, Harold Jones, 21 Don Gabriel Way; assistant, Jerry McKinley, 20 Altamont Drive.

Hockenbeamer listed the following selections for sector posts in the north zone:

- Sector 1—Warden, F. K. Bottomley, 20 El Patio; assistant, Howard Kiser, 1 El Patio.
- Sector 2—Warden, Stanley M. Hudd, 22 Los Palomas; assistant, S. Stanley Hunn, 3 El Verano.
- Sector 3—Warden, Alden Macomber, 555 Miner Road; assistant, B. F. Barrows, 556 Miner Road.

Red Cross Drive Rolls in Orinda

With a quota of $8,585 for Orinda, the annual Red Cross fund drive is really rolling.

As a vital part of the Mt. Diablo Chapter campaign for $24,000, the Orinda drive is under the local chairmanship of Mrs. J. M. Rodwell, 36 Camino Sobrante.

Mrs. Rodwell announced today that volunteer Red Cross workers are canvassing the Orinda area for contribution. She will be at the American Trust Company every Friday from 11 a.m. to noon, so that these workers can turn collections over to her at that time.

(In a partial list of workers published in last week's Sun, the only two men in the group were erroneously designated as "Mrs.") These men are W. E. Friberg, Orinda Village, and R. E. Wadsworth, Orinda Crossroads. Our apologies—to the men and women alike.—The Editor.)

en, Joseph D. Nicolet, 76 Tarry Lane; assistant, Miles B. Sutcliffe, 7 Snowberry Lane.

Sector 5—Warden, T. D. Sanford, 19 Hacienda Circle; assistant, H. C. Gathings, 130 Camino Don Miguel.

Sector 6—Warden, King Farrington, 50 Claremont Drive; assistant, Bruce S. Howard, 50 Stanton Avenue.

Sector 7—Warden M. W. Loveland, 23 Camino Del Diablo; assistant, N. W. Houlding, 425 El Toyonal.

Sector 8—Warden, Richard P. Hafner, 49 Loma Vista Drive; assistant, Kenneth R. Reynolds, 31 Mari-posa Lane.

Planners Okay

Proposal for 'Inland Valley'

Despite protests by several improvement groups and the Orinda Association, the Planning Commission favorably recommended Robert Platt's application for the proposed "Inland Valley" subdivision Tuesday night.

According to Planning Technician Tom Heaton, the matter will come before the Board of Supervisors next Monday.

Opposition to the Platt application was based on the fact that posted notice of the hearing stated that the proposed tract would consist of 37 lots of a minimum size of about 11,000 square feet (quarter-acre) each. The Orinda Association objected to "granting of a blanket land use permit which would set a lower standard than adjacent existing land classification."

THE AREA in question is on the east side of Moraga Highway across from Moraga Del Rey.

Motion for favorable recommendation was made by Commissioner John Stoffel of Orinda. Heaton later stated that the planners' action was taken with the view of making Inland Valley a "comparable subdivision" in relation to Moraga Del Rey.

"An agricultural area," he continued, "is a reservoir out of which can be carved any size lots, from 5,000 square feet to an acre, for a new subdivision."

EXPRESSING objections to the Platt proposal at the Tuesday night session were Frank Hart of the Moraga Highlands Association, Frank Cayting of the Glorietta Improvement Association, R. E. Thies of the Moraga Del Rey Community Association, Mr. Wood of the Moraga Woodlands Association and Harold Rote of the Orinda Association.

Several other persons from protesting groups were present but did not speak. Among these were President Kirk Miles of the Orinda Association and President Harold Cannon of the Moraga Del Rey Community Association.

Heaton stated that it was brought out at the hearing that the lots for the proposed Inland Valley would vary in size from 10,000 square feet to 28,000 square feet, with an average size of about 14,000 square feet. Platt's plan also allows for an 80-foot width for Moraga Highway along the proposed subdivision.

AT THE SAME Planning Commission meeting, the record of survey map for a portion of Rheem property, generally back of the Sleepy Hollow area, was approved.

Heaton later pointed to this action as an example of the flexibility of standards for lot sizes in new subdivisions.

"Because of the hilly terrain, plans for this area call for large lots, none less than an acre and some up to three or five acres," he said.

Also approved was the map for Rheem Highlands No. 2, to adjoin Rheem Highlands, south of that subdivision. Smallest lots here would be half-acre, Heaton said.

Fire Board May Meet Thursday

The Orinda Fire Board may hold a special meeting next Thursday night to discuss bids for construction of Fire House No. 2, according to Fire Chief H. E. Wyatt.

Sealed bids are to be opened by the County Board of Supervisors Monday at 11 a.m. Fire House No. 2, made possible by the bond issue passed by fire district voters in November, will be erected at Moraga Highway and Orchard Road.

TEN CENTS

Agree to Terms On Sewer Service For Third School

Desirable school sites occupied the attention of the Orinda School Board at a brief regular session at Orinda Grammar School Monday night.

President Edgar Stewart and Clerk Joan Erickson were authorized to sign the contract agreement proposed by the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District for sewer service for the planned grammar school west of Washington Lane in Sleepy Hollow—when the situation is ready for such signing.

BEFORE this develops, however, the school district must purchase the 14 acres from the East Bay Municipal Utility District. Stewart reported that E.B.M.U.D. was having the land appraised and that it was possible the appraisal would be completed in the next few days.

In that case, according to Superintendent Joseph L. Sheaff, the school board will probably hold a special meeting early next week.

Stewart also reported to the board that the Moraga Company is going ahead with a survey of a proposed school site in the Moraga Del Rey section, and that an appraisal will follow.

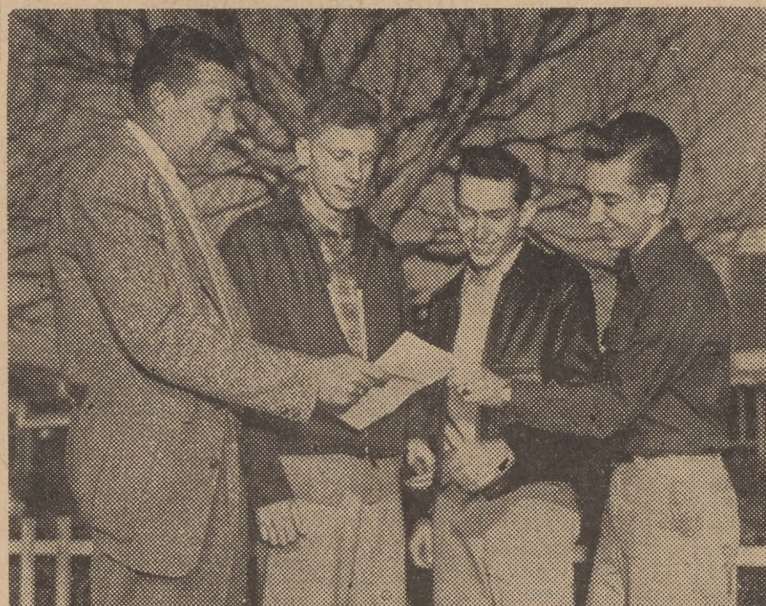

THE CONTRACT TERMS to which the trustees agreed, for sewer service at the Sleepy Hollow site, provide for $2,000 for a two-inch differential in laterals' diameter (eight-inch instead of six-inch) and a charge of 30 cents "per capita" of average daily attendance. Both these charges would be paid by the school district.

In addition, Sheaff pointed out, the school district would install a booster pump to direct the sewage flow. This, however, would not be part of the contract arrangement, he said, but would be an action by the school board "on its own."

IT WAS ANNOUNCED that Keith Hill, a fifth grade teacher at Orinda Grammar School, has been called into active Army Air Force service as of April 6, and that it would be necessary to get a replacement for him. Hill, who lives in Oakland, was a bombardier in World War II.

Theodore Schneider was chosen as a new custodian, to replace Willie Goss, who has left.

Sheaff reported that total enrollment in the district was now 962—540 at Orinda School, 422 at Glorietta.

Pack 52 Will See Air Travel Film

"Scouting Around the World" is the theme for the Orinda Cub Pack 52 meeting to be held tonight at Orinda School.

In developing the idea, the T.W.A. film, "Flight Into Time," a technical picture of air travel to Ireland, France, Spain, Portugal and Italy, will be presented.

Members of the baseball team will take part in this season's games with trim official pack uniforms. Red shirts, with Glorietta lettered in white on the backs and Pack 52 emblazoned across the chest, will be augmented by white caps with red bill and red crown button.

Before the season opens, the team will practice every Wednesday at 4:45 p.m. and games will be held Saturday mornings.

Committeemen of Pack 52 will meet Monday night at the home of Abe Doty, 349 Glorietta Boulevard, to plan details for the future programs, according to Bob Anthonisen, publicity chairman.

We've Had Over 35 Inches of Rain

Rain seems again to have been the predominating weather influence in Orinda this past week. 27.0 inches were recorded in the period from February 28 through March 7, bringing the weather-year total to 35.64 inches.

Maximum temperature for the period is the 54 degrees clocked on March 7, with the minimum of 25 degrees recorded March 3.

Tomorrow's Last X-Ray Day Here

Today and tomorrow are your last chance to get that free chest x-ray in Orinda.

X-ray units will be at Orinda Hardware, 56 Moraga Highway, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. today and tomorrow, and at Glorietta School today, from 2 to 8 p.m.

As of yesterday morning, 1,050 persons had taken x-rays in Orinda, according to Zach Montgomery, local chairman.

Sleepy Hollow Elects Officers

The Sleepy Hollow Association held its annual combined meeting of the outgoing and incoming boards at the home of Dr. James Seaman on St. James Court, with the purpose of electing their officers for the ensuing year. Joseph De Costa was unanimously chosen to head this group with the able assistance of Joseph Nicolet, vice president, Don Lilja, secretary, and Earl Tyler, treasurer.

The new board members are Nel Hamberg, Dr. William Hanford, William Witter, Joseph Downs and Everett Ham.

Thanks and appreciation for the excellent work accomplished last year goes to the outgoing board members Charles Gibbs, Joseph Nicolet, Oscar Krenz, Mark Noble and Howard Libby, along with their hardworking officers, Dr. James Seaman, president; Robert Powell, vice-president; Robert Boyle, secretary, and Don Hutchinson, treasurer.

Orinda Oaks Discusses Bus Shelter

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Orinda Oaks Association was held March 1 at the home of John Pearson.

Discussion was held concerning insurance and protection of the bus shelter, recently constructed on the San Pablo Dam Road. The subject of street signs was brought up again, with President King Farrington appointing Bill Willkie to head a committee.

The need for an "Area Beautification" campaign was brought up by Charles Blue. Blue was appointed to draw up tentative plans for future discussion with the members of the association.

Those present included President King Farrington, Vice-President Clint Easterbrook, Treasurer Bruce Howard, Secretary John Pearson, Mrs. John Pearson, Mr. and Mrs. William Stecker, Al Lorne, Jack Saunders, Charles Blue and William Willkie.

Orindans, Inc., To Discuss 'Hot' Housing Issues

Not only will next Tuesday night's annual meeting of Orindans, Inc., include election of officers, but it will also deal with two "hot" housing issues. President Stanley Allen points out. The meeting will be held at Orinda Community Church hall at 8 p.m.

Following report by the nominating committee, officers will be elected.

According to Allen, the two housing topics to be discussed are:

- 1.—Objection to plans for a new home to be built on Oakwood Road in Moraga Estates. The plans have been disapproved by the district improvement committee on the basis that the home would not be architecturally in keeping with other homes in the area. It would be of functional design, with a flat top and of minimum size. Allen said.

- 2.—Rumors that in some Moraga Estates residences upstairs or downstairs portions have been converted into apartments and are being leased. Deed restrictions for the area, Allen declared, definitely limit the Moraga Estates tract to single-dwelling residences.

Signal Control For Fire Dept. Delayed by Price

That special equipment to enable the Orinda fire department to control traffic lights at Orinda Crossroads when necessary is being held up by one little matter—price.

A few months ago the Board of Supervisors, acting in its capacity as the governing body of the Orinda Fire Protection District, okayed proposed expenditure of $1,070 in fire district funds for the "pre-emp" signal device.

BUT THE PRICE turned out to be more than had been estimated. On Monday, the matter came up again before the supervisors. It was put over until next Monday, in the hope that the county purchasing agent would be able to get a price on the equipment.

Also set for next Monday by the supervisors is the opening, at 11 a.m., of sealed bids for construction of Orinda Fire House No. 2 at Moraga Highway and Orchard Road.

A REQUEST by John W. McFarland, general manager of the East Bay Municipal Utility District, that certain E.B.M.U.D. property adjacent to the Lafayette Fire District be withdrawn from the Eastern Contra Costa Fire Protection District was set for hearing March 26, 10 a.m., by the Board of Supervisors Monday.

In his request, McFarland stated that the territory should be in the Orinda Fire Protection District.

Park Pool Sets Opening Date

The Orinda Park Pool's tentative opening date will be May 12.

Applications have been mailed and memberships are issued on a first come, first served basis.

The Board of Directors urge your prompt attention to this matter as the membership quota is limited.

Additional applications may be secured at both the Orinda Pharmacy and the Village Pharmacy.

Spring-Song: Fashion Show for Aid of Children's Hospital Set for Tuesday

By EDITH BOLMAN
Spring, Spring, Beautiful Spring! Now that it has been fairly well established that no one else is going to do anything about the weather, the Orinda Branch of the Children's Hospital has decided to bring spring to Orinda (obviously impossible, but being done anyway).
IT'S THE FASHION SHOW we told you about last week, to be held at the Orinda Country Club next Tuesday.
Ransohoff's snappiest clothes, Podesta's lovely flower arrangements, Orinda Willows music and the customary Country Club buffet luncheon!
There will also be the awarding of a four-day stay with de luxe accommodations at the Feather River Inn, arranged for by Worden's Travel Agency. Also, a beautiful gift basket is being contributed by Black's Market delicatessen.
SO SPRING is coming to Orinda, whatever you might think to the contrary notwithstanding.

Which reminds us it might be with standing unless you get your tickets soon because, from what we have heard, it is almost a sell-out already. However, if you are determined you might call our ticket chairman, Mrs. Ted Beckett, at Orinda 2061.
SOME OF THE EARLY birds who already have their tickets are: Mesdames F. K. Bottomly, Fred Seiberger, Frank Dunn, Roger Stark, Joseph Lang, Dudley Bell, David Findlay, Robert Underhill, John Loop, Paul Ayer, Glen Logan, Don Kesselring, John Rodgers, F. G. Dailey, Wendel Nicolaus, William Price, Libius Curtis, Kendrick Morrish, Felton Turner, Clifford Nelle, Charles La Barre, Embry Hockenbeamer, Wellington Roy, George Neldham, George Good, E. D. Rutherford, Frank Wright, Paul Pollaczek, Herbert Atkinson, Gordon Hooper, Bernard Abbott, Ray Towers, Joseph Murphy, Frank Morin, George McConnell and Wallace Alexander.

THESE YOUNGSTERS at Children's Hospital of the East Bay are aided on the road to health by the 54 volunteer fund-raising branches of the hospital. Contra Costa branches support part-pay patients from this county only. Among these groups are the Walnut and Orinda Branches. Orinda Branch is staging a benefit Fashion Show next Tuesday at Orinda Country Club. Meanwhile, Walnut Branch members are dashing about preparing for their big event of the year — the annual Festival of Fashions and Flowers, April 24 at the Art and Garden Center in Walnut Creek.

Walnut Branch Plans Festival

They're at it again! Busy-Busy girls in the Walnut Branch, C. H. E. B., are working on new ideas for the big Spring event, the 6th Festival of Fashions and Flowers to be held April 24 at the Art and Garden Center, Walnut Creek.
As usual Mrs. Edward C. Counter, Jr., started the ball rolling by playing hostess to the committee members at a dessert tea last week at the Art and Garden Center.
Guests included: Mrs. E. P. Sawyer, general chairman for this year's big event; Mrs. Kermit Lincoln, Fashions; Mrs. Malcolm Gompertz, Door Prizes; Mrs. Paul Calloway and Mrs. J. C. Mr. and Mrs. Robert O'Neil and sons, Bruce and Douglas, drove to Redding to spend last weekend with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lauren L. Smith.

Men of the Redwood Heights Road Association started preliminary work on the Redwood Highway Saturday. (Probably called "highway" on the maps because it ascends so sharply, not because it is by any means a boulevard.) The men trucked in old telephone poles which will be used in bulwarking the road.

A GOOD MAJORITY of Canyon residents "had their pictures taken" when the chest x-ray unit visited at Canyon last Monday.

Registrations for school board elections close March 25. Anyone wishing to register may do so at the store in Canyon.

Next regular meeting of the Canyon Civic Club will be held next Thursday at 8 p.m. in the hall. Subjects of interest to all Canyon residents will be discussed.

This Sunday will be the Camp Fire Girls' "Let's Go to Church Sunday." The Canyon Camp Fire Girls and Bluebirds will attend the Lafayette Community Church or the church of their choice.

Speaker will be Mrs. E. C. Lanphier of San Mateo, regional vice president of the California State Division of A.A.U.W., who will talk on the aims and accomplishments of the organization and the requirements for membership.

Urge All to Obtain Easter Seals

To be sure that everyone has an opportunity to get Easter Seals during the current campaign, the Crippled Children's Society of Contra Costa County will send seals on request addressed to Mrs. Harry Leonard, Treasurer, Concord, it was announced today.

Mrs. L. R. Hulse, chairman of the 1951 campaign, urged all who did not receive their seals by mail to request them and thus participate in the drive on behalf of the county's crippled children.

"Only when everyone participates in our cause will we be able to reach all crippled children who need services such as this organization provides with Easter Seal funds," Mrs. Hulse said. "We urge everyone to take part by using Easter Seals and, if possible, by giving to the fund which finances services to crippled children."

Mrs. Hulse pointed out that many persons may, for various reasons, be missed in the Easter Seal mailing—an almost inevitable happening in such a large scale operation. She added that, while the Society urges contributions to the campaign, residents of the county can render a valuable service to the handicapped simply through use of the Easter seals on spring mailings, thus spreading the message which the seals carry. Because of this, the Society is happy to send seals on request regardless of whether the person receiving them makes a financial contribution to the campaign.

The seal campaign enables the Society to do everything possible by way of care and treatment for crippled children. It systematically seeks out children for care. It carries out a broad program of medical care, recreation, furnishing of transportation to schools and clinics, providing of crutches, braces and other physical aids; and granting of financial assistance to crippled children whose families are in need.

The Easter Seal drive will continue through Easter Sunday, March 25. The Contra Costa County quota is $15,000.

Sheriff Did Not Testify; The Boys Are Happier Now

By POLITICUS
The "boys" in the county are feeling much better this week. They heaved a sigh of relief, last Saturday at about 7 p.m.

That's when Senator Kefauver's Senate Crime Committee ended its two-day hearing in San Francisco —without good old Contra Costa being raked over the coals.

It wasn't that the senator and his investigators weren't going to try. Our sheriff, James Long, had been "invited" to testify. He was there. He sat in the audience at the hearings last Friday and Saturday waiting to testify.

HE WAS ON THE agenda, along with Sheriff Howard Hornbuckle of Santa Clara County, Harry Schneider, alleged Contra Costa county bookie, and Elmer "Bones" Remmer.

But, as you know, the committee found Artie Samish and the Internal Revenue fellows so interesting that both days were devoted to their testimony. The Saturday hearing continued until 7 p.m. Then, Kefauver and his men had to catch a plane for New York, where hearings began last Monday.

BEFORE HE LEFT, the senator said:

"Some counties are still in a very bad shape. We would have liked to have heard testimony, if we had time."

Another witness not heard was Bones Remmer, a Mr. Big of gambling in Contra Costa, Northern California and Nevada and a former resident of Orinda.

Bones dodged a subpoena for the November hearing and failed to show up last weekend, even after being handed a summons recently in Los Angeles.

THE COMMITTEE SENT him a registered letter, ordering his appearance. Senator Kefauver said he would recommend a contempt citation if it is proved that he received and ignored the letter.

Meanwhile, he added, "we will continue to try to find him" although the committee goes out of existence at the end of the month unless Congress prolongs its life.

(Citizens of the county are joining those elsewhere in writing their senators urging the continuance of the Senate Crime Committee. If you favor this, write or wire Senators William Knowland and Richard Nixon, U. S. Senate, Washington, D. C.)

Meanwhile, the boys (the politicians, gamblers, go-betweens and others associated with the "county empire") are closely watching the Federal Grand Jury in San Francisco.

WILLIAM PECHART and Dave Kessel, the county's gambling kings, have been cited for contempt of the Senate. The Grand Jury must indict them before they can be prosecuted in Federal Court.

Senator Kefauver was to have conferred with the U. S. Attorney in S.F. to expedite the prosecution. Pechart and Kessel refused to testify last November about "gambling, slot machines, bookmaking, high-handed methods and political influence for protection in Contra Costa County"—using the words of Kefauver.

WELL, EVEN THOUGH the boys are breathing a little easier, they aren't what you'd call "happy." Remmer, Pechart and Kessel face Federal action.

And worst of all—the lid is on tight. At the moment, no one can predict when the county will open up.

Yes, it's still pretty tough on the boys.

Troop 210 Mothers to Meet on Tuesday Night

Gathering for the first time at their new meeting-place, members of the Mothers Club of Troop 210 will meet next Tuesday night at 8 at the home of Mrs. R. G. McDermed, 3370 Freeman Road, Sun Valley.

The session will also mark another "first" for the club — it will be the group's first meeting under its recently elected new officers.

A Letter to Kefauver

Senator Estes Kefauver
Chairman, Crime Committee
U. S. Senate
Washington, D. C.

Dear Senator Kefauver:

Joining millions of people throughout the nation, the members of our staff wish to send their thanks to you and your Crime Investigating Committee for the tremendous contribution you are making toward cleaning up gambling and crime. Although your committee has accomplished much, its task is far from complete.

We urge you to seek the continuance of your committee. We have suggested that our readers write our senators to support this action. In addition, copies of this letter are being sent to our senators, William Knowland and Richard Nixon.

We live in Contra Costa County. You and your investigators know much about the situation in our county.

We urge you to return and continue your investigation of our county, as well as other problems that were on your agenda for the hearings in San Francisco last Friday and Saturday.

Sincerely yours,
Herman Silverman

D.A.R. Chapter Meets at Lyons'

Acalanes Chapter, D.A.R., held its monthly session at the home of Mrs. Harvey Lyon Monday afternoon. The meeting was scheduled for Mrs. Jack Schweitzer's home in Berkeley, but illness in the Schweitzer family necessitated the change in plans.

By-laws changes concerning payment of dues were discussed by the members following presentation by Mrs. Elliott Johnson. The group voted to send $10 to the Neighborhood Center in Los Angeles and Mrs. A. L. Ammen, Americanization chairman, spoke about donations to democratic causes.

Mrs. Leroy Kennedy brought to the session gifts which are to be presented to the Marine Hospital in San Francisco to be used as prizes for the hospitalized. The presents were donated by Acalanes Chapter as one of its projects.

Mrs. Johnson discussed soil conservation and water erosion, particularly as it has recently affected this area. She informed members that tree seedlings could be obtained at the Soil Conservation Bureau in Walnut Creek in combating the damage of erosion with proper planting.

The next meeting of the chapter will be held April 2 at the home of Mrs. Harry Wehmeier, Powell Drive, according to Mrs. Ernest Ford, publicity chairman.

Guide Dogs Drive Is in Final Stage

Final phases of the annual campaign for membership in Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc., are underway in Contra Costa County now.

Mrs. John Bohn, chairman of the drive for Lafayette-Orinda area, points out that the campaign helps finance operations of the philanthropic organization devoted to supplying blind persons with seeing-eye dogs.

Solicitation of memberships throughout the county is being directed by various community chairmen. Mrs. Edmund Barnett of Lafayette is also active in this campaign.

The center where blind persons and their seeing-eye dogs are trained, is located near San Rafael.

Drive very carefully — the life you save may be your own.

Hark! Dogs Bark But People Talk Much About Dogs

If someone had quipped, "Hark, hark, the dogs do bark!" at Monday's meeting of the Board of Supervisors in Martinez, no one, probably, would have been greatly surprised — except dogs. But they weren't present.

Two developments having canine, bovine and human implications occurred at the session:

1. — Assistant District Attorney Wakefield Taylor informed the board that in the opinion of the district attorney's office the Board of Supervisors has no jurisdiction in the dogs-vs.-cattle controversy in the Las Vegas Road vicinity of Orinda.

2. — Poundmaster L. W. O'Leary asked for a stricter dog licensing ordinance.

THE OPINION on the Las Vegas Road dispute apparently brought to a fizzling finish the efforts of dog-owners in the area to have the supervisors deny the leasing of 400 acres of pasture land to D. J. Findlay of Charles Hill Road.

Dog-owners had accused Findlay of shooting their pets without warning to the owners, while Findlay had declared that, despite his conversations with dog-owners, dogs had attacked his cattle and that he had had to shoot a few to protect his herd.

The 400 acres of pasture land, across Las Vegas Road, and extending from Charles Hill Road to the Crossroads and the Country Club area, are leased by Findlay from the East Bay Municipal Utility District.

O'LEARY stated that his office is receiving more and more complaints about dogs roaming throughout the county, and suggested an ordinance which would require an owner to keep his dog on his own property or under his personal supervision at all times.

In the discussion on this problem, Dr. H. L. Blum, county health officer, proposed that dog-owners be required to pay a fee for anti-rabies and anti-ringworm shots for dogs; he pointed out that such a setup is in effect in San Diego County.

But Chairman Jack Cummings said the board would not adopt a new ordinance without a hearing which could be attended by dog-owners.

Upshot of the discussion was that the board decided that before Taylor, O'Leary and Dr. Blum draw up a proposed new ordinance, the county will get in touch with dog-owners and cattlemen, to learn of their views and problems.

Five Suits Filed Vs. Pool Builder

Filed in Superior Court at Martinez by the State Department of Industrial Relations are five suits against Fred H. Seefloth, Berkeley swimming pool promoter, seeking foreclosure of mechanical liens and $897.97 allegedly still owed by him in wages.

Seefloth ran into trouble last year after having started to build pools in the Lafayette-Orinda area, when he was accused of never having completed jobs which had been arranged for and for which down payments had been made. A sheriff's office investigation occurred at that time.

Charles E. Ames, associated with Seefloth in the projects, and Anthony Brothers, contractors, are named as defendants with Seefloth in the current suits.

Foreclosure of mechanical liens is sought by the state at five properties where swimming pool work was carried on. The $897.97 sought in wages is allegedly owed to at least a dozen men who worked on the jobs.

Sauer Takes Mason's Place; Sewer Board Acts to Establish L.I.D. 22

Victor W. Sauer last week was named as acting district engineer and manager for the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District.

Appointment of Sauer to this post was made by the Sanitary District Board of Directors at its regular meeting at the district office in Walnut Creek.

Sauer takes the place of Manager-Engineer John L. Mason while Mason is on military leave. Mason, recalled to active Navy duty, reported to the 12th Naval District headquarters in San Francisco Monday, to join the staff of the Naval District public works officer. He held the rank of commander in the Navy Civil Engineering Corps.

MILITARY LEAVE was granted Mason by the sewer board at last week's meeting.

Sauer, who formerly held the position of assistant district engineer at a salary of $645 a month, was given his new temporary position at a monthly salary of $750 — $100 a month less than Mason's salary of $850.

The board adopted a resolution of intention for Local Improvement District 22, to be established in the Sleepy Hollow area in Orinda.

THIS ACTION followed extensive surveys of the area, which had been preceded by a meeting of residents at Orinda Grammar School, called by the sanitary board, at which the residents indicated their desire for L.I.D. 22 to be established.

Hearing of any objections to the proposed details for L.I.D. 22 was set by the board for March 22, 8 p.m., at the district office, 1822 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Walnut Creek.

Approved at the board meeting were details for a sewer service contract with the Orinda Union School District, for the school district's projected third grammar school at the west end of Washington Lane in Sleepy Hollow, dependent on the school district's acquiring the land from the East Bay Municipal Utility District.

THE PROPOSED SCHOOL site is outside the boundaries of L.I.D. 22, so the service would be on a contract basis providing for differential payment by the school district for extra-diameter laterals and a fee by the school district based on average daily attendance.

The chairman and secretary of the board were authorized to execute a contract with the school district when the school district has obtained the land. Similar authorization to sign was granted the school board's president and clerk at a school board meeting Monday night.

On the basis of reports that the state plans to construct the freeway in the next "five years," the sanitary board fixed charges for providing sewer service to three business properties at Orinda Crossroads, located on tax-exempt E.B.-M.U.D. land.

Mrs. H. Wehmeier on Barnard Committee

Mrs. Harvey Wehmeier of Lafayette and Miss Elizabeth Lopez of Brentwood are on the Contra Costa committee headed by Mrs. George E. Backus, Walnut Creek, which is lending support to the national drive to raise $10,000,000 for the Barnard Development Fund.

The campaign is to raise faculty salaries, increase scholarships and enrich the curriculum at Barnard, women's undergraduate college of Columbia University, New York.

What Red Cross Means By 'Mobilize for Defense'

The Red Cross fund campaign this year comes at a time when the nation is at a critical period in its history — a time when the resources of every individual and organization must be prepared for an all out effort to strengthen our spiritual and material forces.

As an organization, the Red Cross has an important part of the job to be done. The government has assigned to it the duty of procuring blood for military and civil defense needs; the training of 20,000,000 people in first aid, more than 1,000,000 in home nursing and hundreds of thousands as nurse's aides.

In addition, the Red Cross must carry forward its responsibilities to the armed forces — personal services which cannot be given by the military but which must be provided if we are to have a strong-hearted fighting force. For these, and its regular duties, the Red Cross this year needs $85,000,000.

Here at home, the Mt. Diablo Red Cross Chapter has a quota of $24,000. This is 50 per cent more than the $16,000 raised last year.

Expanded services and responsibilities — including the stepped-up blood donor program for our armed forces, intensified home nursing and first aid courses, and other vital defense actions — makes this increase essential.

The Red Cross campaign slogan, "Mobilize for defense of your family, your community, and the nation," points up one way the average American can put his strength into the effort for our defense.

The American people have always generously given money to the Red Cross — now we must do more.

We must, of course, provide the funds for the organization's operations. In addition, we must give our blood, our talent and our time — to help protect ourselves in any catastrophe which may strike.

The Red Cross belongs to all of us — all who want to help, all who need help. It deserves our whole-hearted support.

Flood District Boundaries To Be Set; Start Long-Range Road Planning

Proposed boundaries for an emergency flood control district for central Contra Costa County are to be established by the Board of Supervisors Monday.

Setting of the boundaries has been continued at request of Supervisor Ray S. Taylor.

Taylor said the Contra Costa Grange, Concord City Council and other groups wished additional time to consider the proposal.

He added that it was hoped the district could include the entire drainage area of Walnut Creek and engage in soil and water conservation work as well as flood control.

At his request the board adopted a resolution urging passage of state legislation enabling the supervisors to form a countywide district.

LONG-RANGE COUNTY ROAD PLAN

Road Commissioner Joseph W. Barkley has been instructed by the Board of Supervisors to prepare a survey of future road development throughout the county.

Board Chairman H. L. (Jack) Cummings asked that roads which should be four-laned be designated so proper setbacks for buildings could be arranged through the Planning Commission to prevent future expenditures for rights-of-way.

The board also asked Barkley to determine which roads in the county should be designated for participation in the federal road assistance program.

Barkley asked the board to consider whether San Pablo Dam Road, from Richmond to Orinda, should be under the federal program.

State highway officials, Barkley pointed out, have questioned advisability of heavy expenditures on the roadway while it follows its present course and feel that slides on the road are too frequent.

ALL ARE AGREED ON THIS, ANYWAY

Despite differences of opinion on how the districts should be carved out, the county is unanimous in its demand for two State Assembly districts and a congressional district of its own.

Testimony to that effect is in the record of the Assembly Interim Reapportionment Committee. Officials' views on Contra Costa County were given at the recent San Francisco session.

Assemblyman Robert Condon pointed out that Contra Costa is the fastest growing county in America but that it now has only one assemblyman and shares a congressman with Alameda County.

State Senator George Miller, Jr., concurred in testimony of the other witnesses, all of whom stressed that adding any additional territory to a Contra Costa congressional district would make the district far above the desirable population average.

BUT THEY'RE NOT AGREED ON THIS

At the San Francisco reapportionment hearing, Assemblyman Condon and State Senator Miller proposed one district to include Richmond, El Cerrito, San Pablo, Kensington Park, El Sobrante, Berkeley Park and Giant.

The proposed new district would all be taken from Supervisorial District 1, with the exception of Pinole, Rodeo, Hercules and Selby.

That was the main friction between Republicans and Democrats at the hearing. Louis Bernheim, representing the Republican County Central Committee, asked that all of Supervisorial District 1 be included in one assembly district.

Sacramento Report

Crime Commission, F.E.P.C. Proposals Engender Sparks in State Legislature

By ASSEMBLYMAN ROBERT CONDON

During this recess of the legislature, the people should look at the Governor's proposal to establish various commissions dealing with different aspects of the state's problems.

The Governor wants separate commissions to consider taxation and fiscal policies, government reorganization, crime and racial discrimination.

Two of the proposed commissions, on crime and fair employment practices, have already stirred considerable controversy.

CRIME COMMISSION — Three years ago the Governor recommended, and the Legislature approved, establishment of a Crime commission. The commission was continued in 1949 and allowed to lapse last year.

Its disclosures, particularly relating to slot machines and punch boards were of great social value and undoubtedly helped defeat former Attorney General Fred Howser.

The Governor now asks that the commission be reestablished. Some legislators disapprove in principle of the commission technique. Others feel that the commission will undermine Attorney General Pat Brown, particularly since Brown has appointed two of the former Crime Commission chieftains as his top lieutenants.

Brown himself has not indicated whether he approves or opposes another Crime Commission.

If Brown takes a strong stand against a new commission, it probably will be rejected. If he is in favor or lukewarm, the new commission will be set up.

FAIR EMPLOYMENT Practices — During World War II, the President created a Fair Employment Practices Committee aimed at eliminating economic discrimination in war industries because of race, religion or color.

In 1946, an initiative to establish a State F. E. P. C. was rejected by the voters. In every session of the Legislature since 1946, legislation to create a Fair Employment Practices Commission has been introduced.

Seven states and a number of cities now have such legislation. This year Assemblyman Byron Rumford of Berkeley has introduced an F. E. P. C. bill.

The Governor wants to deal with the problem by forming a commission to study and report.

The Rumford proposal, however, would create the commission on a permanent basis; empower it to subpoena witnesses and compel testimony; and, most important, it could issue orders which could be enforced in court against those employers who will not hire minority members.

There is a chance that the Governor's proposal might be adopted. The Rumford bill, however, will probably be bottled up in committee, as has happened in preceding sessions.

Cap Sandford Sez:

HERE'S THE WAY it worked with me — or maybe I should say worked ON me, because it sure worked, all right, all right.

This is the dish. It was necessary for me to make a business trip to San Francisco, and when my business had been completed I telephoned a lady friend to ask her to have lunch with me. She told me that she was in bed with "flu."

I said, "Shall I come and see you?" She answered, "You shouldn't but I hope you will," or words to that effect.

ANYHOW, BIG OLD he man me, too tough for anything like that to have any effect on me, I went and tried my best to cheer my friend up, and so what?

Well, I'll tell you what, by heck, and I don't mean maybe.

Next morning I was freezing and when I hit the horizontal bar in a gee string I felt chilled one moment and hot the next, my timing was bad and I felt kinda weak-like. My shadow boxing was ponderous and slow, like a crippled elephant, and my head throbbed like a boiler shop in full operation.

Next day I felt much worse. When I jumped for the horizontal bar it deliberately moved away and I nearly missed. I shadow boxed like a punch-drunk palooka.

So sez I, "I'll soon cure this mess," and I went to work and dug up the garden thoroughly, then I cut down some wild artichokes which I have had my eye on for some time.

NEXT DAY I FELT so punk that after shaving and bathing I said to my wife, "I'm going to lie down; things are going 'round and 'round.' On the way to bed I stumbled and fell, so there I was finally in bed.

When Dr. Feiler arrived he kept going 'round and 'round and he looked kinda fuzzy-like and not like his usual old dapper self. I don't remember much about his visit but later my wife reported that he found that I had a high temperature and it was "flue" and that he wrote prescriptions for me and I was to stay in bed.

I THOUGHT I must be twins because one man could not feel so positively awful and still live. Then I thought about harps and stuff like that, and I thought: "Gee, what a hard-looking corpse you'll make, you old buzzard. I do hope they won't put a Nile Lily in your fin." I don't like Nile Lilies, do you?

And yesterday when I perked up a bit and looked out at the horses, Duke looked at me kinda funny-like and said, "Ee-ya-ya-ha!" He was laughing at me, by heck, and why not?

Three Men in a Tub

The Knave, Politicus, Condon . . .

By POLITICUS

Election year or no election year, there's never a dull moment in Contra Costa's political picture. And right now one of the subjects contributing to this lack-of-dullness is reapportionment.

On the heels of accusations and denials regarding "gerrymandering," come a flock of other equally juicy verbal morsels. Some of these were mentioned by the Knave recently in the Oakland Tribune.

EVER ONE to grapple with what looks like a possible good story, your humble servant, Politicus, asked Assemblyman Robert L. Condon about a number of points raised by the Knave. Herewith are points raised by the Knave, questions asked by Politicus and answers by Condon.

1. — KNAVE: "Is Congressman George P. Miller planning to remove his present residence from Alameda to Contra Costa County so as to represent that area when new congressional districts are drawn?"

POLITICUS: "Is Congressman Miller planning to move to this county?"

CONDON: "I don't know."

2. — KNAVE: "Or will he remain here and let Assemblyman Robert Condon of Walnut Creek seek the new seat?"

POLITICUS: "If Contra Costa County becomes a congressional district by itself, are you planning to run for Congress? And if Congressman Miller moves here would you refrain from running for Congress?"

CONDON: "You're projecting a situation a year and a half or two years ahead of time. The next congressional election here is in November, 1952, with the primaries in June, 1952."

"In the first place, we've got to get a congressional district. Obviously, in March you don't take a guess on something you won't know about until June."

While referring to "my friendship with George P. Miller and my political association with him," Condon emphatically declared:

"I HAVE NO PLANS at present other than being an assemblyman."

3. — KNAVE: "If Representative Miller moves to the neighboring county will Assemblyman Francis Dunn, Jr., run for the Alameda County district Miller leaves? And was that why Dunn decided against acceptance of the Oakland postmaster position a few months back?"

POLITICUS: "If Congressman Miller moves, do you think Dunn will run for the Alameda County district Miller leaves?"

CONDON: "I think so. He could have had a good job as Oakland postmaster. In September he told me, 'This is the last time I'll be in this job.' (State assemblyman.) Three months later I asked him what happened on the postmaster job. He said he'd decided not to take it. So I assume he must have something else in mind. But, of course, I don't know what was in his mind."

4. — KNAVE: "Representative Miller may not have gone house-hunting yet, but there is some question as to whether, divorced of the heavy Contra Costa labor vote by the pending reapportionment, he could hold a seat in an Alameda County area that would normally favor more conservative representation."

POLITICUS: "Could Miller, divorced of such a Contra Costa vote, hold a seat in an Alameda County district as described?"

CONDON: "Miller could carry any district in Alameda County. His district now takes in most of Alameda County — the 13th, 14th and 15th Assembly Districts."

5. — KNAVE: "Actually, the county (Contra Costa) is something like 50,000 short of what is expected to be the average population for a California congressional district, but it can present a strong case in support of its contention that allowances should be made in its case." POLITICUS: "Do you feel that Contra Costa should have a congressional district for itself, even though it may be some 50,000 short?"

CONDON: "Definitely. The preliminary census figures closed in May, 1950. Something like 8,000 building permits were issued in the county in 1950. So we're bigger now than the census shows. And I think we were bigger, even, than the preliminary census gave us credit for. Those figures will be revised. San Francisco got an upward revision. Point 3—The rate of growth of our county is such that why in the world should we start with a handicap? At the rate we're growing, before the 1960 census we will be the biggest county in the country."

POLITICUS: "Did you say county?"

CONDON: "Yes. Today the Sixth Congressional District has 700,000 people in it."

(LATER, in the quiet of mental concentration, Politicus said to himself: "But New York City . . . what about it? A-ha! New York City consists of five counties!")

To get back to the Knave's queries on whether Miller is planning to move to Contra Costa and on how such moving would affect Condon's future political plans, Assemblyman Condon said of all that:

"The whole thing was a pipe-dream."

Commuters Meet Tuesday Evening

President Aubrey Macomber announces that a regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Contra Costa County Commuters Association will be held at Acalanes High School Tuesday evening.

In addition to regular business, reports will be submitted by the committee preparing for a commuters party and the committee charged with raising funds to pay outstanding indebtedness for attorneys' fees.

Edward F. Click, chairman of the latter committee, reports that there is still time for those members who have not yet contributed their requested $1 to do so. He states that the drive to date has resulted in a poor response.

Hi-Lites on Hi-Life

By DON AND DONNA

THE WEATHER in the last few days has been quite odd. First it's nice, then it's miserable.

It's especially strange how it rained "cut" slips at the same time that it snowed on Mt. Diablo, obviously a coincidence.

Speaking of snow, the people here at Acalanes are planning and going on the last snow trips of the season. Of course there will be some who will go farther away to the good skiing spots, but most of the good weather for skiing locally or hereabouts is gone or almost gone.

THE COUNTY tournament last week-end drew quite a few spectators from Acalanes, although not as many as it should have.

There were a variety of excuses, such as these:

"There was a real neat movie I had to see," "I would have had to miss Hopalong if I'd gone," "But Friday was the Berkeley Block B dance" and "Who in -- cares about basketball?"

TO PREVENT MUD from being tracked through the halls and rooms, fences were built on the corners of the corridors.

Two or three years ago wooden ones were built and they were broken down and walked on. This year they made them of metal so that they couldn't be broken.

Now the kids—mostly Freshmen—walk even more out in the mud to avoid the barriers.

Maybe it's just a lost cause.

IN THE ENGLISH 4 classes many of the students have been practicing their subject A tests. To most of the kids their grades on the tests were a little shocking.

Good thing these aren't the ones that count.

THERE'S NOT MUCH new in the way of fads. However, since the Korean war started, the writing of high school age students in America to those in Europe and Asia has again become extremely popular.

This is a wonderful thing for high school kids to do; in fact, it's one of the few things that we can do.

Since we can't go to the front, can't donate blood and can't work in defense jobs, the next best thing to do is to be a propaganda agent for the U. S. and spread the truth all over the world.

TO ALL THOSE readers who don't understand what we're talking about when we refer to "The" Senior Girls, let us explain that it is just a few of the Senior Girls and not by any means a majority.

Notice to all Juniors, Sophomores and especially Freshmen: Soon you will get your golden opportunity to get back at the Seniors.

Parsons Joins in Request for U.S. Aid for Schools

A contingent of local educators returning from the American Association of School Administrators in Atlantic City, N. J., stopped off recently on their way home to urge congressional representatives and government agencies to do something to relieve the strained financial plight of growing school districts caught in the vise of current price rises and construction shortages.

According to Neil M. Parsons, Acalanes district superintendent and one of the educators who met with Washington officials, the group held an impromptu meeting with Congressman George P. Miller and a brief conference with California's Senator Knowland.

WITH THE ASSISTANCE of Congressman Miller, school officials, in concert with Francis Dunn, Alameda chairman of the State Education Committee of the Assembly, presented an informal request for federal help in giving schools priority on construction materials, and federal aid in establishing some form of fixed prices to help stabilize price and construction problems in school planning.

The request was made to an assembly of California congressmen, assistants from the two senators' offices and delegates from the Office of Price Administration and the National Production Authority.

NELSON MILLER of the National Production Authority told the local educators that the NPA "couldn't promise anything for the schools" but that the National Production Authority would hear the case of the schools and probably put them in a priority classification right after the defense effort along with the type of priority held by health, sanitary and other essential enterprises.

Included in the contingent of local educators who attended the Atlantic City convention and sat in on the Washington meeting were school administrators Neil M. Parsons of Acalanes, Vaughn Seidel of Alameda, Glenn Goodwill of Monterey, Paul Erhet of San Lorenzo, Jack Rees of Hayward and J. Drummond McCunn of Contra Costa Junior College.

Parents Hear Acalanes Disaster Plan

The Acalanes Parents' Advisory Committee recently held its fourth meeting of the school year to discuss with school officials the general disaster plan adopted by the district and school counseling procedures.

School officials outlined the plan to be followed in the event of any natural or man-made catastrophe in this area. Parents had previously been informed of the disaster plan through letters sent to each home by school administrators.

Leland Russell, head of the counseling department, outlined the school's general counseling procedure. Mrs. Ruth Webb, chairman of the social studies department, reviewed the work being done in social studies, with special emphasis on the disaster plan.

'DRAW THE DREAM'

Mr. and Mrs. America's dreams for a better future through thrift will be illustrated this spring when several million elementary school children will be encouraged to participate in the Treasury Department's Schools for Defense program, "Draw the Dream You Save For." School children will draw what they hope Defense Bond and Stamp savings will provide for them and their families.

Small Builder Backbone of Nation's Building Industry, Says Robt. Platt

The builder who builds less than 30 homes per year is the backbone of the home building industry, according to Robert R. Platt, Orinda builder.

"The biggest builder in the United States produced only three-tenths of one per cent of the homes constructed in 1950," Platt told the general membership dinner meeting of the General Contractors Association of Contra Costa County held recently at the Acapulco.

Platt, who received a first prize in the 1950 National Association of Home Builders Neighborhood Development Contest, was one of several speakers at the meeting.

Platt asserted that the building industry is the backbone of the nation's economy and that the industry was "Opportunity Unlimited" for anyone who could do a better job at less cost.

The association's president, Donald J. Lawrie of Lafayette, who presided at the meeting; Minnie Lou Eakin of Albany, Jack Mullen of Richmond, Dan C. Peacock, Jr. of Walnut Creek, and Frank Pullen of Martinez, reported on various phases of the NAHB Convention held in Chicago January 21-25.

Mullen, who reported on the National Building Codes Committee, urged the contractors to exert pressure on building officials to provide more uniformity in present building codes and to provide for the ready acceptance of alternate materials to replace critical materials needed in the defense effort.

Peacock, who had returned from Washington, D. C., that morning, stated that the Administration had more than doubled the various departments and organizations dealing with contractual relationships with the government and that he felt the representation of the NAHB for the builders was essential for a production of the 800,000-850,000 homes the Administration had established for the goal of 1951.

Pullen discussed the recently imposed credit restrictions on the building industry and asserted that Raymond Foley, Housing and Home Finance Commissioner, intimated the restrictions would be relaxed where necessary to provide housing needed in defense areas.

Lawrie stated that, although defense area designations had not been made, the Contractors Association, in cooperation with other affiliated Home Building Associations, was having a survey made in an attempt to have the Northern California area designated a defense area.

The effect of the recently imposed wage freeze and its applicability to the construction industry was discussed by Frederick C. Kracke, executive vice president of the association, who stated that the restrictions were a vital factor in the contemplated negotiations with the carpenters in Contra Costa County.

Broil with no kitchen smoke

...in your modern Gas range

When you broil in your modern automatic Gas range, the clean blue Gas flame consumes grease spatters and smoke—with the broiler door closed. Since these vapors are consumed, there's no smoke to drift through the house or settle on kitchen walls and curtains. Whether you're broiling steaks, chops, fowl or fish, the efficient Gas flame has a fast searing action which seals in all the natural juices and flavors... Only in your modern Gas range can you enjoy true char-type broiling—that's smokeless.

For baking or roasting, your modern automatic Gas range provides oven ventilation with continuous air circulation that results in more uniform rising and browning.

Absurdia in Suburbia II Kick-Off Dinner Planned for April 2

Absurdia in Suburbia II is the official name for the Orinda Mothers Club production for 1951.

The name was chosen and some of the preliminary details taken care of at a committee meeting called by Mrs. Stuart Henderson, chairman, Monday night.

Plans were made for a gala kick-off party to be held April 2 at the Orinda School auditorium. All Orindians are invited to attend the kick-off party at which time we can all meet the producer, find out what it is all about and what we can do to make this money raising event as successful and as much fun as last year's.

So whether you be ham, production technician, costume and make-up expert, stage hand, or just plain people looking for lots of fun—come to the kick-off party on April 2. If you were in it last year you will remember what fun it was, if you held back last year remember how sorry you were, if you are new in the community here is your chance to get acquainted.

There is nothing like Absurdia in Suburbia—it's colossal, it's stupendous, it's side-splitting! Come and find out—April 2—the kickoff party!

Pedestrian, Two Children Hurt in Auto Accidents

A pedestrian and two young children were injured in area traffic accidents during the past eight days, according to the California Highway Patrol.

William H. Faulkner, 34, of Boyer Circle was struck by a west-bound car on Mt. Diablo Boulevard at Oakland Street, Lafayette, about 8 a.m. Monday. He was taken to Herick Memorial Hospital, Oakland, suffering from chest injuries.

Faulkner was attempting to cross the highway on foot. Driver of the car was Charles Evans Jolin, 33, of Walnut Creek.

IN THE HEAVY RAIN last Sunday afternoon, the car driven west on Mt. Diablo Boulevard by Louis Joseph Pugh, 27, Walnut Creek, apparently skidded and ran into the embankment a half-mile west of Orinda Crossroads, near the site of last December's big landslide.

Injured in the accident were two children in the car, both two years old. They were Betty Lou Pugh and Daniel M. Klein of Walnut Creek. Injuries were minor, according to the Highway Patrol. The youngsters were taken to Permanente Hospital, Oakland.

ON MT. DIABLO Boulevard just east of Charles Hill, Earl Barlow Martinsen, 37, Martinez, driving east, apparently tried to make a U-turn shortly after midnight last Saturday, the Highway Patrol reported. The sedan rolled over—but Martinsen was uninjured.

A sideswipe-rear end collision occurred early Thursday afternoon of last week on Moraga Highway, almost a mile south of Orinda Crossroads. No one was reported injured. Drivers, both south-bound, were Josephine Margaret Cozzo, 42, Oakland, and Lloyd Schaefer Bastian, 21, a student at St. Mary's College.

Housing Group Elects Officers

A decade of service was chalked off by the Contra Costa Housing Authority when it held its 10th annual meeting of the Board of Commissioners recently to elect officers for the ensuing year.

Gerould L. Gill, owner and operator of Marsh Creek Springs Recreation Park, was re-elected chairman for the 10th consecutive time and is now serving in his 11th year in that position. He is well known in the county for his activity in

Learn the Truth

Do you know how quickly and conveniently you can make sure that your lungs are in healthy condition? Are you aware that an x-ray can mean a longer life and a happier life for you—or for your loved ones?

Have you any idea how subtle tuberculosis is and how it can be active for a long time without your realizing it? It's time you did.

These are facts. TB kills nearly fifty thousand people in the United States every year, and it's so unnecessary . . . for a chest x-ray allows the doctor to direct the battle against this insidious disease.

And it's so easy to be sure. It takes only a moment to be x-rayed. And you don't have to remove anything except your outer coat or jacket.

Today and tomorrow are the last two days that the x-ray units will be stationed here and in adjoining communities.

For the good of yourself, your family and your community, get your chest checked.

public affairs, being currently chairman of the Pittsburg Community Hospital Board and chairman of the Eastern Contra Costa Fire Protection District. He is past president of the Contra Costa Development Association.

He has been associated with the United States Steel Company for 35 years and was in charge of the cable spinning operation on the Oakland Bay Bridge. Since its completion he has been superintendent of the Wire Rope Mill of the United States Steel Company in Pittsburg.

Court of Awards Held for Troop 35

A Court of Awards and Hobby Show was held by the members of Orinda Girl Scout Troop 35 and their mothers at the home of their leader, Mrs. L. B. Ambler, Jr., March 1.

Occasion for this special ceremony was the completion of the requirements for first class rank by Scouts Marjorie Fish, Joanne Ross and Nan St. Clair and of second class rank by the newest member of the group, Sylvia Coffey. Mrs. A. R. Reid, chairman of the troop committee, awarded these badges, kindly filling in for Mrs. Vernon Axelsson, district chairman who was detained at the last moment by illness.

PRESENTATION OF AWARDS followed the colorful flag salute and candle lighting to the recitation of the Girl Scout laws and promise.

Mrs. Ambler gave a brief resume of the steps followed in Girl Scout badge and rank advancement as she pinned a total of 37 proficiency badges earned since last spring on the eight members of her troop: Heath Ambler, Pat Bacon, Marjorie Fish, Sylvia Coffey, Jean Reid, Nancy Richard, Joanne Ross, and Nan St. Clair. Special mention was made of the extra work done on four of these badges toward curved bar rank by Heather Ambler, Marjorie Fish and Nan St. Clair.

THREE GIRLS received a small prize from the troop, which is presented each time any member completes a six week's record of perfection in their weekly uniform inspection.

An exhibit of work prepared by the scouts included material on second class requirements and on the following proficiency badges: "My Troop," "Basketry," "Drawing and Painting," "Sculpture," "Tree," "Mammal," "Reptile and Amphibian," "Campercraft," "Star," "Architecture," "Interior Decorator," "Traveler," "Housekeeper," "Cook," "Musician," "First Aid" and "Swimmer." Mrs. Ambler's old khaki uniform from her own days as an Intermediate Girl Scout caused much interest and considerable merriment.

MRS. ST. CLAIR, troop committee member, assisted by Nan St. Clair and Heather Ambler, gave a demonstration of artificial respiration and the method of timing necessary for success and for shifting to a relief operator.

Every mother present took part in the Hobby Show with demonstrations on needlepoint by Mrs. C. M. Fish, wood finishing by Mrs. Frank Coffey, ceramics by Mrs. K. St. Clair, leather carving by Mrs. L. B. Ambler, Jr., folk dancing by Mrs. R. B. Ross, golf by Mrs. A. W. Reid, hand-knit socks and the cable stitch by Mrs. William Tildesley, Jr., leader of the Glorietta School seventh grade troop and guest for the afternoon of Troop 35 with which her scouts were affiliated before the division of classes made a combined troop difficult to arrange.

Refreshments were prepared and served by the scouts.

Chit and Chat about Don and Donna

By MARY THIES

NEWS, NEWS and more news. That's what I'm looking for.

Skiing seems to be the most popular pastime at present, with many having taken advantage of the four-day weekend of Washington's Birthday.

A favorite spot that was visited by Dons and Donnas was Phillips. Those who could be found enjoying these surroundings were Dottie Bee, Janet Chantler, Carola Court-right and Judy Hall.

ANOTHER GROUP who took advantage of the long weekend to visit the snowy slopes was Maggie and Pat Zamlock and Joan and Sandra Gordon. Their destination was Cisco Grove.

Speaking of snowy slopes—it's a good thing Orinda is so far from Mt. Diablo or there wouldn't be many students left at Acalanes. I heard a few rumors of people who were planning to, shall we say, take the long way to school! I wonder how many really ended up at Diablo?

ONE OF THE MOST talked-about events of the last few weeks was Mike McFarland's party. A few of the Orinda kids and their dates who attended were:

Renan Hagens and Sven Groenings, Don Beardon and Patsy Camp, Don Cvieta and Sue Fowler, Joyne Kirk and Bill Matheson, Aviee Hatton and Bob Winklenbach, Elaine Ranker and Richard Rogers, Tom Klement and Bonnie Jefferys.

KEN ERNST and Ted Sanford started out to go skiing with a group from Berkeley but something must have happened along the way. The farthest they got was Redwood Canyon. I wonder what happened there!

TOM TILTON seems to have had more than his share of bad luck. First it was the wall—and now the stairs. Whose house were you trying to sneak out of, Tom?

A large group of boys from Orinda spent a weekend at Lake Tahoe. Those of them who go to Acalanes were Robin Muse, Hugh Haskill and John Winrod.

HEY! Better hurry and get your tickets for the Senior play! It promises to be one of the best ever put on at Acalanes.

That's all for now—but once more I ask: If you have any news you would like printed, please leave it in room 108.

Sermon for Sunday

On Sunday, March 11, a Lesson-Sermon will be read in all Christian Science churches on the subject "Man." The Golden Text has been chosen from the Thirty-seventh Psalm: "Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright: for the end of that man is peace."

The sermon will be comprised of citations from the Bible and from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, including the following:

Isaiah: "Behold, a king shall reign in righteousness, and princes shall rule in judgment. And the work of righteousness shall be peace; and the effect of righteousness shall be quietness and assurance for ever. And my people shall dwell in a peaceable habitation, and in sure dwellings, and in quiet resting places" (32:1, 17, 18).

Science and Health: "Never born and never dying, it was impossible for man, under the government of God in eternal Science, to fall from his high estate" (p. 258).

Troop 200 Enjoys Annual Snow Trip To Lake Tahoe

Members of Orinda Boy Scout Troop 200 participated in their annual snow trip last weekend, staying at the summer cottage of J. N. Long at Lake Tahoe.

Ken Hauter, Harry Noller, Jasper Allara and Long drove the boys, their equipment and supplies to their destination. Skiing at Tahoe Meadows and hours filled with activity helped the boys do full justice to the meals prepared by their host, who was chief cook for the occasion.

Preparing for the outing, Allara and his son, Dennis, met with the troop to give pointers on skiing and also accompanied the group as ski instructors.

I'm Frank ...

... when I say this very successful column of advertising you used to see regularly in this paper was the idea of a good customer of mine and not my own—Harold "Ole" Ohleyer, up on Acacia Drive. He not only gave me the idea but also helped me along with it.

However, "Ole" has a much better hobby now that sweet little girl of his is walking around. You know, she is the cutest, sweetest, most lovable little girl you ever saw and she takes right after her mother. Sorry, "Ole," but "I'm Frank."

THOSE SWELL MAPS of Orinda we gave away at Orinda Hardware were also the ideas of another good customer. Joe Pierotti over on Miner Road suggested it to me about four years ago and if it wasn't for these maps, I know a lot of people would still be wandering around these hills. So, if you get lost sometime drop in to Orinda Hardware—we'll give you a map.

Gosh! I guess I've never had an original idea in my life. Why the very idea of starting a hardware store here in Orinda was suggested to me by George Hartzel, a good customer up in Crest View Drive. That was six years ago when everyone had to run in to Oakland for a pound of nails or a pint of paint.

If it wasn't for George I'd still be sleeping at a drawing board some place or other. Hell, I guess I haven't changed much since my mother used to send me off to P.S. 34 in good old Brooklyn and say "God bless his pointed little head."

SPEAKING OF HEADS, if the price of haircuts go up I think the Buster Brown cut will soon be in style again. If you have seven or eight boys in the family (what a dreamer), you can sure run up a big barber bill.

Now, with our "super duper" electric hair clippers, which retail for only $10.95, on can be an expert home barber and still leave the ears on your child's head.

We offer a free course in hair cutting, provided you let us use your head as a model. I can't understand why, but we haven't been able to find anyone willing to take this course. Maybe I'm too willing.

Joe, our tall blond, handsome clerk with the baby blue eyes, tells me he was quite the "cut up" when he was in the Army. However, I'm not so sure about him because from the looks of some of the hair cuts he has been wearing around the store it looks as though he cut it himself.

Well anyway, we have the makings for home hair cuts—barber shears, electric hair clippers, hand hair clippers and a bowl to fit any head.

YOU HAVE probably read about the new O-Cedar wax polish called "Dri Glow" in all of the local newspapers and many of the national magazines.

I don't know any more about it than you do but it must be pretty good or they wouldn't "yell" so much about it.

Why don't you read an ad some place and then drop in and try a bottle. It's BRAND NEW and it's only 98c a bottle. Got'ter keep up with the times, you know. (Don't tell Wilma I mentioned this product because she has been complaining that my bald head has that dull, unpolished appearance. She may get ideas.)

It's been a long time since I've been able to get out one of these articles. If I can keep awake long enough after I leave this "nut and bolt farm" at night, I'll try to keep them coming again. When I say I'll try—well, I'll try cause...

Spring Fashion Show
Given by Club

A spring fashion show and smorgasbord luncheon was given at El Nido Rancho Saturday, sponsored by the Glenview Junior Women's Club. Proceeds from the benefit affair were slated for the Fred Finch Home playground fund.

depth, if they are not forced into relief by sharp contrasts.

A simple color chart such as may be found in the art or paint shops is a help to understanding these tenets. Your garden picture must be planned and executed like any work of art if it is going to be outstanding.

WITH PERENNIALS used as a basis or foundation in your garden it will not be nearly so hard to keep your color theme in proper proportions.

Many of the finer colors can be obtained through the use of Delphinium (blue, lavender, violet, white), Phlox (a wide varieties of both pastels and contrast colors), Peonies (red, pink, white), Chrysanthemums (an excellent choice of bold and soft tones).

Don't forget to prune, spray and fertilize now.

Watch for our free seed offer.

YOU'VE HEARD the old saying, "Appearances can be deceiving." It's really apropos at this time of year.

Right now is when you should give your lawn its first feeding with complete plant food. It's simple. All you have to do is apply three pounds per 100 square feet of lawn area.

Spring thaws and rains will work the plant food down to the feeding roots, making watering-in unnecessary. And, it's effective. Complete plant food supplies all the nutrients grass must get from soil for best growth.

IMPORTANT, too, is the fact that all these nutrients are available to grass roots just as soon as growth starts. They do not depend upon the action of soil bacteria to make them available.

If you haven't tried an early feeding program previously, I suggest that you do so this year. By summer you'll have the kind of lawn that can stand up under the bruising treatment it receives from children and a blazing sun.

It will be free of weeds, too, because early feeding gives grass plants a head start on weeds. By the time weeds begin growth, there are few spots where they can break through.

Diamond K
Sez...

At last! Here's good news for everyone who's tired of fighting rising prices!

In keeping with our policy of trying to keep prices down, this Friday, Saturday and Sunday morning (March 9, 10, 11) Diamond K is marking ALL merchandise, with four exceptions, down 10%. This reduction affects all merchandise except feed, power tools, garden tractors, and fair traded items.

This should offer a golden opportunity for gardeners and home builders alike. Be sure to come in and take advantage of this savings. Remember the days—Friday, Saturday and Sunday, 9 to 12.

THIS WEEK we have a special offer for readers of the Diamond K column. We have made a purchase of a limited number of the very popular booklet published by Seymour Smith, "How to Prune." This is a very practical book both for beginners or for experienced gardeners. It contains a wealth of information on care, planting, pruning of shrubs, roses, hedges and fruit trees.

This book is made available to you free, by dropping a penny postcard to Diamond K, or by coming in and asking for one.

Don't forget Diamond K's big anti-inflation sale this weekend.

Shop and save the Diamond K way.

See you next week.

Beauty of Flower Garden Enhanced by Proper Color Combinations, Grouping

By BERT WRIGHT

THE IDEA of creating a garden picture would have amused our forefathers, whose main interest was to make things grow.

They considered a flower as a unit, not as a companion for its neighbor.

Today, however, we give more thought to the placement of the different flowers. Grouping, form and color are among our chief interests.

RIGHT VALUES are obtained by planting masses of one flower, as it is far better to have one effective group than 20 spots.

A whole wave of blue campanulas brings more beauty to the garden than the same space filled with a dozen varieties, of three each. A large assortment dotted about in a meaningless way, scattered with no relation to height, foliage or color, can be more distracting than delightful.

WHEN PERENNIAL beds border a path or frame a lawn area, the tallest plants go at the back, with the height gradually diminishing towards the front. At the present time gardeners are coming to realize the value of adding flowering shrubs of small size to the flower areas, as well as the inclusion of suitable evergreen material to form alcoves or niches, within which the blooms are seen to advantage.

There are a few simple basic rules making for harmony, and no matter how they may be interpreted, the axioms they represent are inexorable.

BLUE LENGTHENS distance, adds depth to shadows.

The use of blue and its affinities lends a far air of expanse to a garden, as sky and white clouds give the same effect of distance to the eye.

If the garden is to give a close and restricted feeling, use the colors that advance, oranges and yellows.

RED PUNCTUATES space, defines its own position so insistently that it usually needs isolation to reveal its beauty.

Against green backgrounds or companions with white, the scarlet is thrown into a splendid relief.

WHITE is no peacemaker; it is a pointing finger; it calls attention to any color near which it is placed.

When used to separate jarring colors it may afford a line of demarcation, but while holding each one from springing at the other's floricultural throat, white is shouting loudly!

"The salmon Phlox would like to murder the orange Lily and would do so if I, the pure white, did not stand between them."

Too much white in the garden makes it spotty. The tender tones, lilac, mauve, heliotrope, pale pink, rose, cream, light yellow, buff, gray, and the various nuances of white like one another's company.

WHERE TONES are bold, use colors which blend with them to keep their values DOWN instead of sharp contrasts which HEIGHTEN them.

Broadly speaking, the shadow colors of the garden palette, dark rich tones of garnet, purple and very dark blue and the green of the evergreens, will do this.

STRONG closely related colors—garnet, salmon, deep blue, orange, buff, scarlet, deep yellow—will create a satisfactory richness and

Twice as Many Workers Are on Red Cross Appeal

Twice as many campaigners are in the field for the Red Cross Fund Appeal this year than ever before in the Mt. Diablo Chapter area, according to Mrs. Mildred Culbertson, executive secretary for the chapter.

From the chapter headquarters at 1607 Locust street, Walnut Creek, campaign kits have been sent out to over 800 workers on the call of the 12 community chairmen who have the campaign in hand.

Some of the community chairmen, viewing the early returns of their campaigners, suggest the possibility of the appeal doubling last year's record, when half as many workers 400 strong, collected $16,000.

ALL ARE IMBUED with the ambition to accomplish or at least approximate this result because of the growing realization that the 50 per cent increase called for 1951 over 1950, $24,000 instead of $16,000, may not prove adequate to maintain the chapter's enlarged program of activity, according to Edward M. Larmer, chapter chairman.

Two community chairmen have been added to the roster of those directing the drive in the persons of Mrs. George Priford of Ygnacio Valley and Mrs. H. R. Parker, Canyon-Moraga.

All interested in Red Cross activities are urged by the Fund Campaign committee to listen to the half-hour program, "38th Parallel," to be broadcast next Monday over many NBC stations.

More Than Polio Fought at Center

The Mt. Diablo Child Therapy Center in Walnut Creek treats many patients other than polio victims. These are victims of accidents, arthritis or other crippling diseases.

Some of these patients are needy and, of course, they are not helped by the March of Dimes fund. For this reason the Emily Ann Doyle Memorial Fund was established in memory of the daughter of Mrs. Mary Doyle, beloved therapist at the center.

All contributions to this fund are used directly to pay for treatments for patients who would not otherwise be able to get the therapy they must have for complete recovery.

Further information will be supplied by Miss Elizabeth Green at Walnut Creek 2785.

Young GOPers Meet Wednesday

First organizational meeting of the California Young Republicans for this area will be held Wednesday, 8 p.m., at the home of Ned de Laveaga on Bien Venida, Miner Road, Orinda.

The Young Republicans of California is a voluntary association of men and women 40 and under who are joined together to provide a practical means by which to contribute more effectively to the betterment of the cities, state and the country as a whole, and the Republican party.

"The Young Republicans of this state need your help, want your point of view, value your opinion and asks your membership now," states the announcement of the meeting.

Greyhound Strike Proves Commuters Are Friendly Folks

Commuters of Contra Costa County are friendly people!

This was proven this week during the strike of Greyhound Line bus drivers which left 1000 commuters of the Orinda - Lafayette - Walnut Creek - Concord area without their usual method of transportation to and from their jobs.

But nobody had difficulty getting to work if they could get as far as the highway.

AUTOMOBILE traffic on Tunnel Road was close to saturation point but there was no lack of rides for those who didn't choose to brave the onslaught in their own cars. Hitchhiking was popular and drivers of passing cars watched closely to offer rides before a thumb could be raised.

Drivers were friendly to the point of suggesting to hitchhikers that they would meet them in the evening where they parked to give them a ride home.

Some commuters hiked down to Broadway and 14th in Oakland, and San Francisco drivers would swing around to see if they could pick anyone up.

CAR POOLS were plentiful but nobody went to the lengths of the 41 members of the Novato Commuters Club in Marin County who chartered a Greyline Bus and rode in style each day.

Key System E Line from the

Are Those Buses Running Today?

Indications at press time yesterday were that the strike against Pacific Greyhound lines would be settled today and that bus service would be resumed at 5 a.m.

The 3,600 strikers in seven western states were voting on acceptance of tentative settlement terms providing a 10 per cent wage increase. The strike went into effect last Friday.

In the Bay Area, strikers voted acceptance of the proposed settlement, but ending of the strike depended on acceptance by all the strikers in the seven western states.

Claremont Hotel was also popular with stranded commuters. To the surprise of Berkeley residents, their seats were often taken by S. F. bound workers who drove in as far as the Claremont. It was a pleasure to the long-suffering, standing Orinda commuters to turn the tables for a change and have seats.

It is expected striking Greyhound drivers will have tall fish stories to tell when they return to work. Many planned to go fishing during the strike.

GREYHOUND has stated that commuters will get a refund on the unused part of their commute books. Many commuters are asking whether the refund will include Saturdays and Sundays that are never used and previously never refunded.

Officials of the Commuters Association have advised their members to save all unused tickets of their March commute books until all details of the refund are settled.

Miss Bateman Tells Engagement To James Doten

Dinner was an especially gala affair at the Sigma Kappa Sorority house at University of California recently with the announcement of two engagements. Two five pound boxes of candy delivered at the dessert hour informed sorority members of the news.

Beverly Jane Bateman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gurth M. Bateman of Berkeley, was one of the brides-elect to announce her engagement. Her fiancé is James Edward Doten, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Doten of Via Hermosa. The young couple's engagement was first announced at a shower given for Hope Anderson, fiancée of Wilson (Woody) Powell.

A freshman on the Berkeley campus, Beverly Jane is a Sigma Kappa pledge. She was a member of the Adelphean Club while attending Berkeley High School.

James is a graduate of Acalanes High School and Armstrong College. He is a member of Berkeley Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Orinda Country Club.

Tentative plans are for a July wedding.

The other engagement announced the same evening was that of Patricia Sue Maltby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Maltby, to Karl Arthur Olson of Fairfax, Marin County.

Fast for Classifieds

Time being of the essence, imagine Bert Howard's consternation when he lost his wrist watch. But he didn't waste much time consternating. He placed a classified ad in this newspaper.

Result — within two days his watch was returned by Mrs. Leonard Jones, who had found it. She read the ad, phoned Mr. Howard, who identified the watch.

What's that about time being of the essence? Seems it applies not only to watches but also to our classifieds!

With the possibility of no water, electricity or gas, or possible contamination, it is essential that every housewife know how to feed her family safely and without undue panic. If the housewife is educated in keeping the home front, other agencies will be able to give their services to injured and other vital needs.
